

REbuilding Ukraine's National Independence Through Education

REUNITE is a functioning collaborative formed at the intersection of academia, the public sector, and the private sector with the overarching goal of addressing the post-war Ukraine rebuilding activities through mutually beneficial activities with champions embracing education, government, and corporate perspectives.

Capitalizing on our combined strengths and resources, REUNITE members have come together to focus on the comprehensive improvement of the design and construction industries through successful development and delivery of university-level degree programs, professional development programs, community outreach, and engagement activities. This human capital development project seeks to create aligned programs for schools, universities, businesses, and government agencies, promoting knowledge transfer for future Ukrainian generations.

This initiative began with the creation of Rebuilding Ukraine Association Incorporated (RUAI), a nonprofit 501(c) 3, which was organized to provide technical assistance training to support the development of new building materials production facilities to provide necessary materials to repair the war damage from the Russian invasion.

REUNITE is an inclusive and impartial convener of academic, industry, and government stakeholders who formulate educational opportunities and applied research. Their goal is to develop solutions on a national, and even regional scale in the design and construction industry.
